Migration and Diaspora: Bridging the Gap Between Research and Policy

10th-11th November 2016, Gjakova

The conference’s aim is to bring together scholars and policy makers of migration issues, broadly understood, from Albania, Kosovo and Finland to share their ideas and research findings. The aim of the activity is also to become a point of contact and networking for scholars interested in the themes of the conference in order to foster future collaborations. The main themes of the conference will be on:

- Research-Policy Dialogue on migration issues
- Transnationalism, Diaspora engagement and entrepreneurship
- Citizenship, access to labour rights and social protection
- Trade Unions attitudes towards migration
- Migrants’ attitudes towards Trade Unions
- Return migration, reintegration and labour markets
- Gendered responses to the economic crisis
- Intersectionality in the labour market

This conference is organized as joint collaboration between University of New York Tirana in Albania, University of Gjakova in Kosovo and the University of Jyväskylä in Finland, in the framework of the RRPP project “Industrial Citizenship and Migration from Western Balkans: Case studies from Albania and Kosovo migration towards Greece, Germany and Switzerland”, Dr. Erka Caro, PI and Dr. Mimoza Dushi, researcher. (For more details please refer to <http://icm-westernbalkans.com/project-description-2/>).
